Appsvio Enters the Test Management Arena

Subheadline

Appsvio launches Appsvio Test Management (ATM) app and proves that comprehensive coverage of the QA process and simplicity can go hand in hand. ATM, the first fully Forge-built test management app, is now available on the Atlassian Marketplace - designed to streamline QA processes for teams of all shapes and sizes.

ATM delivers powerful features, an intuitive experience, and enterprise-grade security - all within Jira. The app covers the whole testing process in Jira - from requirements definition, through test design and execution, to defects collection - uniting tests with the rest of the development cycle. Built entirely on Atlassian's infrastructure, ATM leverages native Jira elements - from work items and workflows to permissions and UI - for seamless, intuitive integration. The add-on meets the newest data safety standards on the Atlassian Marketplace, ensuring no data egress and data residency compliance.
