NAD Treatment Center Sponsors the 2018 Revolution Against Aging and Death Conference
Effects of NAD+ on Aging to be Presented on Exhibitor Stage

San Diego— NAD Treatment Center, an integrative health and wellness clinic in San Diego, California, today announced it is a proud sponsor of the 2018 Revolution Against Aging and Death Conference, known as (RAADfest). The conference will bring scientists, doctors, and public figures from all over the world to discuss anti-aging therapies, including Jim Mellon and Ray Kurzweil. NAD Treatment Centers co-founder and Business Development Director, Tom Ingoglia, will present the effects of NAD+ and aging on Saturday, September 22nd at the exhibitor stage.

"We are thrilled to participate in events that communicate to the public about the cellular regeneration techniques for healthy aging," explains Ingoglia, "There is an extensive amount of research published which has suggested that diminished levels of NAD+ may play a role in many age-related diseases. Unfortunately, these findings often do not get the publicity and attention they deserve. RAADfest does an excellent job of amplifying the scientific discoveries from anti-aging scientists in a format that is well understood."

The clinic first exhibited at RAADfest in 2016, only a few months after its launch to administer intravenous NAD+ for detoxification from chemical dependencies and addiction recovery. Since then, the NAD Treatment Center has evolved into a Functional Medicine clinic specializing in longevity, brain health, and neurodegeneration. By utilizing extensive testing to evaluate biomarkers, the physicians can successfully identify the root of the problem, rather than masking the symptoms of the disease.

The announcement of the revolutionary combination of therapies offered at the NAD Treatment Center shortly follows their announcement of co-hosting the Third Annual NAD Summit, a conference for physicians and NAD+ enthusiasts to discuss the latest innovations in the intravenous treatment.

NAD+ (Nicotinamide Adenine Dinucleotide) is a simple metabolic coenzyme of Niacin, a B Vitamin that is involved in hundreds of physiological processes and reactions. Research has shown that repletion of NAD+ can help repair DNA, support cardiovascular health and revitalize cellular function through the activation key enzymes. This treatment replenishes the supply of neurotransmitters and promotes healthy brain function, and is completely based upon nutrients that are naturally found within a healthy body.

About NAD Treatment Center

Located at 4080 Centre Street in San Diego, California, the NAD Treatment Center is a clinic that specializes in natural detoxification from chemical dependence through brain restoration therapy using intravenous NAD+. Using NAD+ in combination with the latest technology and alternative therapies, we customize programs for each individual. Our treatment program is unique because we minimize the amount of medication people have to take and restore their brain on a cellular level.
