

Los Angeles Jewelry Designer Michael M Featured on Brides Magazine Website

Fresh off their featured article in the May 2017 issue of Jewelers & Technology Magazine, the Los Angeles based bridal and fashion jewelry designers have now been featured in Brides.com article titled "43 Romantic Rose Gold Engagement Ring."

Featuring rose gold engagement rings, that according to the writer have "risen to the occasion," the article included the Michael M Crown R712-1.5 engagement ring amongst its ranks of pieces that have "gone from the trendy metal of the moment, to near-classic status." Made of vintage-inspired 18-karat rose gold, the solitaire style Crown R712-1.5 ring by Michael M is also adorned with a brilliant assortment of round cut diamonds that are placed part way along the ring's band.

In addition to their mention on Brides.com, Michael M has also recently launched two exclusive engagement ring lines, the Loud and Defined collections, as well as recently attended the 2017 JCK trade show in Las Vegas where they revealed brand-new collections of engagement rings, wedding bands, earrings, necklaces, and bracelets.
