Roni Deutch, ‘The Tax Lady’, Is Back!

Roni Deutch, known for over two decades as ‘The Tax Lady,’ who built the largest tax law firm and tax representation business of its kind in the United States is BACK! But, this time Roni’s focus is connecting taxpayers with tax professionals if they owe more than $7,500 to the IRS. Why? Because of her decades of experience fighting the IRS on behalf of tens of thousands of taxpayers nationwide, and because of her own personal experience, Roni wants to make sure taxpayers get the help they deserve when fighting against a very powerful foe and system.

The author of two best selling books on taxes, “The Tax Lady’s Guide to Beating the IRS and Saving Big Bucks on Your Taxes”, and, “Surviving the Upcoming Tax Disaster,” Roni has been a much sought after guest on numerous talk shows and publications including: CNN, FOX, NBC, The Today Show, ABC, CBS, MSNBC, FOX Business, Forbes, The Wall Street Journal, entrepreneur.com, and others for tax, business, money and political commentary. In addition, Roni also produced an award winning tax documentary, built the 4th fastest growing franchise concept at the time and provided tax analysis of the 2008 Presidential election for FOX.

Where has Roni been? There is no question that when a woman shows too much success, there is a tendency for others to knock her down. That is what happened to Roni. Since 2011, she took her 21 years of legal experience fighting the IRS on behalf of taxpayers, to the criminal justice system after being charged with the largest number of crimes ever filed against a single individual. In a very sensational and public manner, California Attorney General Kamala Harris filed a total of 1,609 separate crimes against Roni, and after four years of legal wrangling, on August 7, 2015, that same Attorney General dropped all 1,609 charges. Roni was not guilty. No culpability. No fraud. No dishonesty. No wrongdoing. No moral turpitude. No intentionally shredding 2.2 million client documents and no stealing of any client’s money! No criminal defendant in the country has ever had this many criminal charges dropped against them, so why would a political powerhouse like Attorney General Kamala Harris file 1609 separate criminal counts against Roni in the first place?

Now, that her battle with the California State Attorney General is finally over, Roni is back as a sought after Business Advisor and Commentator dedicated to helping businesses, taxpayers and minorities with their business, tax, criminal and political matters. When not fighting the bad guy or helping the underdog, Roni loves spending time with family, surfing or watching baseball, especially the San Francisco Giants. Roni is energetic, well spoken, relatable, and telegenic. Roni holds a Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) in Pre Law and Ethnic Studies, University of California Berkeley Juris Doctor (J.D.), Western State University College of Law Masters of Laws in Taxation, University of the Pacific, McGeorge School of Law.

Roni is available to provide tax, business and political commentary and interviews. With over 20 years of media experience, Roni brings professionalism, thoughtful commentary and tons of energy to radio, television and print news outlets. What Roni Deutch Offers to the Media:

"Don't panic and make sure you can substantiate every number on that return because the IRS will be auditing people at unprecedented rates."

"I always preach, 'hire a tax professional.' You need someone who knows the 75 thousand plus pages of tax law."

"Anytime you go green and save money is just a great thing you can do for your taxes...there are so many tax credits that everyone needs to know about."

"Over 38 million people owe the IRS and many of those people have no idea how to prepare their tax returns, or they went through a divorce, or death. Or, they could be getting bad tax advice."
