

FreightVana Announces Significant Asset Trailer Investment

February 17, 2022

FreightVana Logistics announced today FreightVana x, the transportation industries' first collaborative Power-Only fleet. Through FreightVana x, Shippers and Carriers have unique access to FreightVana's asset trailers for increased flexibility in loading and unloading.

Shannon Breen, Co-Founder and Co-CEO of FreightVana, "Shippers are typically forced to work with large asset-based Carriers to establish drop trailer programs, while most small to medium sized truckload providers are unable to operationalize these offerings because of equipment availability and financing constraints. We started FreightVana x, in collaboration with our supply chain partners, to help alleviate this specific issue so that Shippers can now enjoy a scalable and strategic drop trailer program, backed by smaller trucking fleets, who represent most of the available capacity in the market."

FreightVana deployed their first asset trailer fleet in Q4 2021, operating between California, Arizona, and Nevada. In the next ninety days they will be adding over 250 trailers for their Shipper Partners, with an additional 1,000 trailers coming online nationally by the end of 2022. FreightVana's proprietary transparency platform is already bringing Shippers and Carriers closer together, and this strategic trailer offering further enhances the solutions that their partners can utilize to combat the costly and volatile trends impacting the overall supply chain.
