FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

INC AUTHORITY RELOCATES TO RENO, NV, BRINGING NEW JOB OPPORTUNITIES
Inc Authority provides a complimentary online platform to launch businesses.

August 17, 2015 - Reno, NV - Inc Authority, LLC is the newest business addition to Reno, NV. After initially launching as a start up in 2012 in Las Vegas, NV, Inc Authority, LLC has found a new home in Reno.

Founded by, Cort Christie, Inc Authority, LLC is representing a new e-commerce brand available to consumers seeking entity formation services. Inc Authority, LLC currently operates IncForFree, which offers online incorporation services, as well as additional business services and products; such as record books, operating agreements, federal tax identification numbers, etc . Consumers are able to utilize the entity formation services of Inc Authority, LLC free of charge (except for state fees). This unique model has given thousands of individuals the ability to create a business entity online, while taking advantage of the complimentary processing services.

IncForFree provides business formation services to all 50 states, giving a customized experience for each user. While many other similar e-commerce websites exist, IncForFree has gained national exposure for its cutting edge approach, offering complimentary services and focusing on establishing a life-long client relationship.

Inc Authority, LLC has created a personalized customer management team with one-on-one client care representatives who answer questions and assist entrepreneurs with proper business structures, tax consulting, accounting services and credit counseling.

"We know that forming an entity is just the first step in the process of creating a thriving business," says Cort Christie. "Being able to effectively manage a business to achieve long-term objectives is the rest of the equation. We provide complimentary entity formation because we want to secure that first step and then focus on reaching goals and maximizing potential through our other services and products. Being a part of our client's success is our biggest reward."

Inc Authority, LLC will soon be releasing packaged offers for clients through their IncForFree online portal. These packages will allow consumers to take advantage of bundled pricing to get everything they need to launch and operate a new business.

Daniel Hief, local Senior Manager for Inc Authority, LLC plans to employ at least 10 individuals by the end of summer and have a total of 20 new employees by the end of the year. He is looking for talented telesales staff and business start-up coaches. Inc Authority, LLC will also continue to develop their online model and add new e-commerce websites to benefit business owners everywhere.
