

Kevin's Fine Jewelry Announce Alex and Ani Half-Off Closing Out Sale

New Jersey's own Kevin's Fine Jewelry has announced that it will be closing out their assortment of Alex and Ani jewelry. As a special treat to their devoted community of customers, Kevin's Fine Jewelry has decided to present a half-off sale on the remaining Alex and Ani products in their Totowa, New Jersey showroom.

Having hosted the designers in their delightful "shop in shop" for almost five years, going forward, customers may come into the store and select from Kevin's Fine Jewelry's selection of Alex and Ani bracelets, rings, necklaces, as well as the much adored, "precious collection."

When asked about the closing out sale, KFJ team member Jenny Marmo said, "We had a good run and enjoyed our relationship with the designer over the last several years. We're proud to be able to provide this last sale featuring Alex and Ani for our friends and neighbors." The exclusive ½ off sale runs from now until the last piece is sold.
