FIGHTING FOR YOU

Have you been in an accident?

Following the initial shock of an accident, one of the most frustrating issues can be the time it takes for insurance companies to determine liability, make payments and, if necessary, file a lawsuit. Here are five steps to help protect you after an accident.

- 1 Exchange information.
Make sure to collect the contact information and insurance details from those involved.
- 2 Report the accident.
Contact the police to report the accident.
- 3 Seek Medical Help.
If you or someone you know has suffered a personal injury, the very first thing you should do is seek medical attention.
- 4 Contact an Attorney.
After you have received the appropriate medical attention, you should contact an experienced and knowledgeable personal injury lawyer.
- 5 Participate in the Investigation.
Once you have an attorney, they will thoroughly investigate your accident and begin building your case to prove your injuries were a direct result of someone else's negligence or wrong doing.

When to hire an attorney.

An accident attorney— especially a personal injury attorney—can help you defend yourself against big insurance companies and their team of lawyers. A skilled attorney already knows the personal injury laws and procedural rules and can effectively handle all the legwork for you. He or she will act as your best advocate throughout the entire case.

Hiring an accident attorney is the best option for people who:

- Have suffered severe injuries.
- Are faced with expensive medical bills.
- Have experienced a significant loss of wages due to their injuries.

Our team has successfully won hundreds of personal injury cases on behalf of our clients. Call Today!

Will your insurance provide coverage?

When you're deciding whether to file a personal injury claim, one of the first things to find out is whether the at-fault party has the proper insurance to cover the underlying accident or incident. For example:

- In a car accident case, does the driver who hit you have car insurance?
- After a slip and fall, does the owner of the property have liability coverage that extends to injuries suffered by customers (commercial property) or visitors/guests (private property)?
- If it's a dog bite case, oftentimes the dog owner's homeowner's insurance will apply to the incident.

If you're faced with one of these scenarios it can be confusing to navigate insurance and receive proper coverage on your claim.

At Joey Gilbert Law we make your case our priority and ensure your case will be treated fairly and receive the compensation it deserves.
